A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything? Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe it. Physicians recognize iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures indigestion, biliousness, weakness, dyspepsia, malaria, chills and fevers, tired feeling, general debility, pain in the side, back or limbs, headache and neuralgia—for all these ailments iron is prescribed daily. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is increased energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In women the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it. The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. TAKE NO OTHER.

THE CATTLE EPIDEMIC.

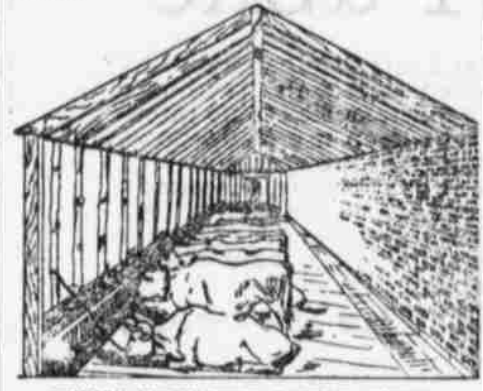

A SERIOUS OUTBREAK IN KANKAKEE COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Conflicting Reports Regarding the Disease—Chicago Animals Awaiting the Action of the Authorities—Not Pleuro-Pneumonia Near Akron, Ohio.

KANKAKEE, Ill., Oct. 1.—Twenty-five of the one hundred bulls sent from a C. A. 490 distillery before the quarantine to Tripplet's ranch, near St. Mary's, Kankakee county, have died, presumably of pleuro-pneumonia. They were recently purchased by Miller & Pogue and shipped to the ranch from Rice's distillery, Chicago, some say because they were not doing well, and others that they were sent to be reduced to steers. The symptoms are the same as described in Chicago. The ranch is on the state line, and joining the largest stock farms of Indiana, neighboring with the large ranches of Cadeby & Gregory, of Chicago; Lemuel Milk, of Kankakee, and J. W. Gaff, of Cincinnati.

The Disease at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Just now the public is interested in pleuro-pneumonia and distillery feeding. From Mr. P. H. Rice, of the Empire Distilling Company, the following facts were obtained describing his stables, for an illustration.

EMPIRE DISTILLERY CATTLE SHEDS.

The stables are built in rows, with the cattle facing each other. They stand on a floor with sufficient slope to drain them. The refuse passes into a channel below, and the stalls and channels are cleaned with rubber scrapers like those used for cleaning large windows. The cattle have plenty of room for comfort. The stables have abundant ventilation through large openings through the wall, and an opening three feet in width in the roof, which extends the entire length of the stalls over their heads. Their feed consists of ground corn, malt, rye, and wheat, and it goes to the cattle clean and sweet, without any foreign mixture. The grains used by the Empire company, Mr. Rice said, were the best, as their output of spirits goes entirely to first-class perfume manufacturers, wine fortifiers and chemical works. The hay they eat is the very best western wild hay. The shipping expense of the hay being great, it does not pay to ship any but the best. It would appear that his cattle fare far better than the average of those fed in the rural districts, especially at the small dairies, where they feed sour slop decoctions. He says he will forfeit $1,000 to the man who will show a finer or better-cared-for lot of fattening cattle than his in the state of Illinois or Iowa.

The state board of live stock commissioners has practically completed its labors, and Professor Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, has left. The members of the board, however, will remain here and watch the progress of the disease, and the inspectors will be kept on duty to detect new cases. The board is awaiting some action on the part of the state authorities.

BACK OF PHOENIX DISTILLERY.

Professor Salmon thinks there are about 2,400 cattle quarantined, and not 3,000, as stated. If the disease spreads to healthy cattle they will, of course, be isolated, as the diseased ones now are. A strict watch is being kept up at the stock yards for signs of the disease, but no evidence of it has been discovered.

Dr. Salmon said with considerable feeling: "I have seen a great deal of this disease and of other matters affecting stock interests, but I never yet saw anything gained by hiding the truth. This is genuine pleuro-pneumonia and I have put myself on record as so reporting it to the government, the statements of interested parties to the contrary notwithstanding. There has always been opposition to the facts here in Chicago. It was the same when the trichine epidemic broke out. If the truth had been acknowledged then, and proper provisions made for the examination of the pork, our meat would now be going to Europe without question."

The live stock commission has not been able to have a full meeting yet, though ten days have passed since the disease was discovered in dangerous form. The much-talked-of slaughter seems as far off as when governor Oglesby was here last week.

Five of the six government inspectors who under Dr. Salmon's direction will co-operate with the state board in exterminating pleuro-pneumonia, are in the city. They are Drs. Herr, of New York; Trumbower, of Baltimore; Rowland, of Jersey City, and Drs. Rose and Murray, Dr. Hawk, of New York, is on his way here. It is now understood that the quarantined animals in the infected places will not be immediately slaughtered. The government inspectors will probably make a careful examination of every animal in each quarantined place, and separate all the healthy ones from those that show signs of disease. It is believed that under this arrangement the quarantine can be kept up several weeks if necessary, and the healthy animals will be no more exposed than they have been already.

Reports here regarding the disease are very conflicting. On one hand the report that Texas fever had made its appearance in the stock yards here is positively denied and declared a sensation without a particle of foundation. The stockmen declare there has not been a case of splenic or any other fever in the yards this season. Other reports state a few cases of Texas fever have been noted, but no pleuro-pneumonia.

The diseases reported in the dispatches from Virginia as existing among cattle of that section is probably Texas fever. Professor Salmon investigated the disease some weeks ago and pronounced it fever, which is as serious as pleuro-pneumonia, although it disappears in cold weather.

Not Pleuro-Pneumonia in Ohio.

AKRON, O., Oct. 2.—The report that cattle upon a farm four miles west of this city, were attacked with a disease which thoughtless people have called pleuro-pneumonia is denied. The report had raised great excitement both here and abroad. Dr. J. S. Butler, of Lima, O., state veterinarian, and Dr. A. C. Fair, of Cleveland, after careful and critical examination, pronounced it blood disease of local character and without danger.

Kansas Quarantines.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 2.—On recommendation of the Kansas live stock sanitary commission, Governor Martin has issued a proclamation ordering a quarantine of ninety days against the entry of cattle from Illinois and Ohio and the Dominion of Canada, on account of the prevalence of pleuro-pneumonia in these localities.

THE WARREN-DANFORTH FIGHT.

A Ten-Round Contest for the Featherweight Championship.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—About 2,000 people witnessed the ten-round fight between Tommy Warren and Tommy Danforth, for the featherweight championship of the United States. The fight was a rattling one from start to end, and at the close Paty Cardiff, the referee, could not decide which had the best of it. He declared the fight a draw. The men were both anxious to go on, but the police would not allow it.

Warren fought in his usual open style, while Danforth rushed matters in nearly every round. Warren got first blood from Danforth's nose in the third round. The hardest round was the ninth. Danforth rushed Warren all over the stage to get in one heavy blow on Warren's stomach. He had the best of the round all the way through. Both men were pretty well blown in the tenth and last. Warren tried to knock his man out, but the task was too great for him. The close was hammer and tongs, and when time was called the men had to be pulled apart by their seconds. The decision of the referee was generally thought to be correct.

Laying a Corner Stone.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 2.—The corner of the new government building will be laid here Saturday, at 3 o'clock. Congressman Willis will conduct the ceremonies. Senator John Sherman, who is to speak here the same night in opening the Republican congressional campaign, has been asked to be present and to make a brief address. Senators Blackburn and Beck were also both invited to attend, but have both declined, on the ground of previous engagements. Senator Beck says he has an urgent "engagement with his wife in Cincinnati" on the day named. Their failure to attend is regarded as significant in giving a Republican color to the occasion in which Willis is the chief actor.

Silk Company's Receiver.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 2.—The receiver of the Hartford Silk company at the stockholders' meeting yesterday reported liabilities $598,000, and nominal assets $340,000, but if the property were thrown on the market its selling value would be many thousands under that figure. The report was referred to a committee, who will report October 11. The committee will decide whether it will be best to have a sale for the benefit of the creditors or endeavor to raise fresh capital and continue the business. Receiver Willard says that no negotiations are in progress for the purchase of the property.

More Quakes at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 2.—The hope that our disturbances were over are again frustrated. On Thursday a number of people reported that they felt almost continuous tremors, but these are ascribed to passing street cars. At 1:45 this morning, however, came another well defined and distinct shock, accompanied by that horrible subterranean thunder, with which the people are so familiar, but which no familiarity will rob of its terrors. The disturbance was not severe enough to arouse people to rush them out in the street, but it was very distinct, and was felt all over the city.

El Coyote's Last Battlefield.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS

JUDGE GARY OPENS THE HEARING FOR A NEW TRIAL.

The Affidavits Upon Which the Prisoners Bore Their Hopes for a Rehearing—The Great Interest Manifested in the Looks of the Condemned Anarchists.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The interest in the cases of the convicted Anarchists has been revived, as this was the time set for the hearing by Judge Gary of the motion for a new trial. It turns out that, besides the affidavits previously published, which alleged that several of the jurors had expressed opinions concerning the guilt of the prisoners, another even more sensational affidavit will be presented.

It is alleged that two painters named Love and Blossom, swear that they know Harry L. Gilmar, who swore that he saw Spies light the bomb in Crane Bros' alley, and Schraubelt throw it; that the affidavits are positive that this could not be so, as they were with Gilmar in a saloon at Halsted and Van Buren streets, from about 8 o'clock the same evening until after 10.

States Attorney Grinnell, though reticent on the subject, has virtually acknowledged that these affidavits are in existence. It is averred that he sent for Love, who, when questioned, acknowledged he had been led to make the affidavit by a pseudo-detective and finally broke down. Blossom is said to have stuck to the story. This is thought to be the sensation which the Anarchists' counsel have been hinting at.

At 10 o'clock Judge Gary opened the hearing for the new trial in the case. When they were brought into court expectation ran high as to how the Anarchists would look after their long confinement. Presently the door leading to the jail was thrown open, the rumble of many footsteps sounded and in came the Anarchists. They marched in precisely the same order as they did during the trial, and the pale face of August Spies was at the head of the procession. Then came Schwab, looking deathly white, followed by Neebe, Parsons, Fischer, Lingg and Engel, in the order named. In appearance they were very much altered. All had the characteristic jail pallor, and Spies and Neebe looked very thin.

They were seated only a moment when Capt. Black called attention to an affidavit he wanted the defendants sworn to, and all arose from their seats, and in the custody of a dozen bailiffs left the room to execute this formality. It was said the affidavit related to the "new evidence" on which the defense base their hope of securing a new trial.

Canadian Cabinet Meeting.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—A special meeting of the cabinet was suddenly summoned to consider the case of Sproule, who was to be hanged in British Columbia. The result of the meeting was that on the recommendation of the minister of justice, Sproule has been again reprieved, this time for four weeks. It is understood that this action has been taken at the instance of the Imperial government on account of representations made by the American government, and in order to give time for an appeal to the privy council to be made.

Demented Woman Killed.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Hull, a married lady, aged thirty-four years, while out of her head from illness, left her bed, dressed herself and started out. She had been struck by a train during the night and killed instantly, for her skull was fractured and her right arm and right thigh-bones badly broken.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 1.—Cashier William E. Gould was brought into the United States court room to plead to indictment against him, charging him with misappropriating funds of his bank. Judge Webb then sentenced the prisoner to ten years in the state prison at Thomaston.

CHICAGO'S GREAT LOCKOUT.

All the Packing Houses Will Shut Down About the 15th Inst.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—A great lockout at the stockyards has been decided upon some time during this month, about the 15th, it is said, when the packing houses will all close down and remain closed until the question of eight hours or ten hours is settled. One of the large packers said this morning: "Trouble is of course expected. It will be a long fight, but we can't run on eight hours with the other houses all around us running on ten hours, so the trouble might as well come all at once, as to drag along until we are compelled to shut down by losses. It is likely that several of the houses will start up in a small way on the ten hour schedule and make the fight."

The Chicago Packing and Provision company has already shut down for repairs. That is what all the packing company officers say; and that is probably the secret of the denial of the packers that this is to be a "lockout." The houses will shut down one after another—for repairs. When they open it will be on ten hours time or not at all. At this time of the year it is customary for all the houses which have been running all summer to shut down for repairs. This October, however, the shut-down will be significant. It will afford the houses an opportunity to throw on their men the onus of the fighting. The houses will be closed. Those who apply for work can go to work at ten hours, or they can stay out. Meanwhile all the houses at Kansas City, Omaha, Milwaukee, Springfield, St. Louis and elsewhere will be running day and night. The fact of the lockout is authoritative, so is the fact that the packers are all acting together. Twenty thousand people will be deprived of employment by the great lockout.

Faneuil Hall Labor Meeting.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—About 130 delegates from forty-four organizations of Trades' unions and Knights of Labor, representing a membership of 60,000, met at Faneuil hall with F. F. Dougherty, as chairman, and C. F. Wilkins, secretary, and perfected arrangements for the formation of union leagues in every ward of the city and in all parts of Suffolk county. Committees were provided for to call upon all nominees for office, and learn their views on labor questions. If the replies are favorable, they will be supported by the union leagues, if not, they will be opposed.

Mr. Norton has been ailing for nearly two years, suffering from a stomach trouble which partook of the nature of nervous dyspepsia. At times his condition has been serious, but never so critical as it now is, a spinal complication having ensued which is likely to prove fatal."

Cruel Gossip Causes a Suicide.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 2.—The news has reached here of the suicide of Jacob Baumgartner, the adopted son of Mrs. Stearns, a prominent widow of Blairsville, Posey county, about fourteen miles from here, which occurred Wednesday evening.
